Have Runaway With Double Header.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN SERIOUS.

Monday night while coasting on a double header down Methodist hill the running gear of the first sled got out of fix and the sled became unmanageable running into a fire plug with great force. Miss Werdna Stokes, one of the party of coasters, had the misfortune to bruise her foot and ankle badly. She was removed to the residence of Dr. A. O. Sisk where medical attention was given immediately. As soon as possible thereafter she was carried home in a buggy and at present is getting along nicely the swelling in the ankle being considerably reduced.

On the same night and about the same time a sled containing some boys ran into an obstruction overturned and broke one of Fred Hosea's ribs.

He was carried home by two men and is still in a serious condition. Willie Hosea, who was on the same sled had his head badly cut.

ENGINEER KILLED

By Boiler Explosion at Saw Mill Near Madisonville.

James Hendricks was killed and a saw mill wrecked by an explosion of a boiler six miles from Madisonville at noon Saturday. The boiler was used to furnish steam for the mill and the cause of the explosion is still a mystery.

The mill was owned by Onton Brucken, of Evansville. It had been running the greater part of the winter. Friday morning the mill ran as usual and Hendricks, who was the engineer, and a man named Short remained at the mill during the noon hour while the rest of the hands went to their homes for dinner.

Hendricks was sitting near the engine when the explosion came. His body was hurled through the air for several feet and when it struck the ground was lifeless. It was badly mangled. Short was outside of the engine room and escaped with slight injury.

The boiler left its foundation and was thrown against the shed which covered the saw and carriage of the mill. The shed and machinery were beyond repair.

The mill was valued at about $4,000. The workmen heard the noise of the explosion and rushed to the place. They managed to keep the lumber from taking fire and prevented more serious damage.

Hendricks was 20 years of age and married. He had lived in this section all of his life and was a highly respected man.

ENDS IN TRUTH.

Warmth in Paper.

During this extremely cold weather it might be well for the public to know that a layer of old newspaper between the covers of the bed will produce warmth equal to an extra comfort or heavy quilt. Paper being a non conductor aids materially in keeping out the cold.

There is said to be nearly 1,000,000 too many women in the British Isles.

UNION ORGANIZER IS CHARGED WITH SHOOTING

Charles W. Wells, District President of United Mine Workers.

ARRESTED AND TAKEN TO HENDERSON.

(Henderson Gleaner Feb. 4.) Charles W. Wells, district president of the United Mine Workers of America, located at Central City, was brought here Friday morning by Deputy Sheriff H. L. Sulton, of Wheatcroft, Ky. He is charged with shooting at Sam Lesher, a cab driver, at the Union Station a week ago Sunday.

Wells was admitted to bail in the sum of $150 by City Judge Walker. His trial was set for February 8.

Wells came here with two other officials of the miners union a week ago Sunday and spent the day. They left the Hotel Henderson in a hack driven by Lesher, and went to the station to take train south. At the station a quarrel arose over the payment of the fare.

The three union men and the cab driver was standing on the stone wall at the southern end of the depot squabbling over the fare when one of them attempted to strike Lesher.

The cabby knocked him off the wall. Another one of the union workers drew a pistol and leveled it at Lesher. Before he could fire it Lesher struck him on the forehead and the bullet clipped a piece out of the side of Lesher's cap and raised a small knot on the side of his head.

the side of his head.

The three men then jumped aboard their train and escaped. Lesher was arrested but was dismissed. The warrant on which Wells was arrested was sworn out by Ticket Agent Rogers.

A cork tree is fifty years old before it produces bark of a commercial value.

COAL BUSINESS INCREASING.

New Train May be Put on to Handle the Black Diamonds on Providence Branch.

The output of the coal mines on the Providence branch of the Henderson division has increased to such an extent that it has become necessary to add an extra train to the service.

Hardly a day or night passes that an extra is not required to pull out the coal. One night this week three extra trips were made to this place with coal. The business is being further increased by the new mines and the railroad company is now seriously considering the matter of putting on another regular train on the branch. It is not known what the schedule will be when it is put on, but the idea seems to be that it will run only between Providence and Earlinton and will make about three trips daily between the two towns. It is also reported that a regular Sunday train is soon to be put on.

NARROW ESCAPE

From Serious Fire.—Inmates Awoken Just in the Nick of Time.

Monday night Mrs. Burr, wife of Earlinton's popular mayor, was aroused from slumber by the smell of smoke, and on arising discovered the floor in a light blaze in front of the grate in the room. She hastily procured a bucket which was fortunately not frozen and soon extinguished the fire. The coal on the grate had fallen down and burned a hole through the carpet and floor and had not Mrs. Burr been a light sleeper and discovered the fire when she did in all probability the house would have been consumed.

Frightened the Passengers.

Tuesday as Conductor Harry Brannell's train came in to Earlinton from the North and was passing the coal chute at No. 9 tippie the passengers received quite a little scare. Some one had left the iron apron down and in passing it struck the top of the coach lifting it several inches from the truck bearings and tearing a hole in the roof. When one end of the coach raised up the passengers thought it was going to turn over and a general rush was made for the rear door. Before any of the panic stricken passengers could alight however, the coach had settled back and the rattling tearing noise had ceased. The amount of damage done was small.

HUNT SITE

Practically Selected and Legislature May Adjourn Tomorrow.

SESSION COST STATE ABOUT $30,000.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 7.—The "Hunt site" is so close to winning there is little use of further parley and the extra session of the Legislature may adjourn Friday.

This is the result of the Senate today by a vote of 24 to 4, adopting the report of the Joint Conference Committee of the General Assembly, agreed that the Cantrill amendment proposing that the State purchase an additional block of ground to the northeast of the Hunt place site, at an expense of $30,000, should be so amended as to leave the additional purchase wholly in the discretion of the State Capitol Commission and furnishing it options on the property to March 1, 1906.

If the Legislature adjourns tomorrow it will have been in session thirty days so far as cost is concerned, for the members are paid for Sundays, and the cost is estimated at fully $1,000 a day. Therefore this extra session has cost the State not less than $30,000 in per diem and mileage.

Diamonds and Triangles.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Rash entertained in their attractive new home last Thursday evening. It was an unusually enjoyable occasion brightened by certain original ideas of the technical gentleman who occupies the tripod in that household. The professional instinct came to the surface in the artistic adaptation of Sabbath newspaper humor to blue-print, pictorial tally cards upon which were engrossed certain original and very humorous legends appropriate to the game and the foibles of the players. In form the cards were triangles for the men, diamonds for the ladies. This might be reasoned as the sincerest flattery to the jewel wearers; to symbolize that, try as hard as they might, the men could never hope to capture a single jewel of credit at the ladies' own favorite pastime. The men took the cake all right when it came to refreshments and consoled themselves that there was one place they could. Mrs. O. H. McGary wore the championship ribbon for the ladies. Dr. C. B. Johnson won all the games and took the gentlemen's streamer. It was dinnch.

Capt. F. D. Rash Member Shelbyville Court Martial.

Capt. Frank D. Rash returned Tuesday from Shelbyville, where he went to sit as member of a Court Martial in the case of Capt. Burton of the Shelbyville Company. The charge is understood to have been practically the same as that recently made against a number of officers of the First regiment at Louisville; the failure to make proper reports of property records at the times fixed by law. The result of the trial has not been announced and Capt. Rash is not committal concerning the whole matter.

Major E. B. Bassett, of Hopkinsville, served as Judge Advocate of the court. The other members were Lieut. Col. S. S. Morrow, of the Second regiment; Major G. Talbot Berry, of the Third; and Capt. Frank D. Rash.

GRAND JURY MAY BREAK IN

The Illinois Legislative Craft Exposes Grows Warmer.

Representative Comerford Appears to Have Fully Understood the Task He Undertook.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 8.—That Representative Comerford went into the Illinois legislative craft expose with his eyes wide open, expecting a fight and prepared to make it, is a fact that even his "best batters" now admit.

When the Chicago man first launched his charges, it was generally supposed that he had jumped lightly into the troubles which now surround him, and had kicked up a little tempest by talking of things of which he had no positive knowledge.

Witnesses who have been called upon to answer his searching questions during the last few days now concede, however, that the man is well-armed for his fight and skilled in the use of his weapons. It is now recalled in many quarters that ever since his election Comerford has been quietly playing the various legislators with whom he is in contact with questions relative to the conduct of the law makers, who handled the money, and the general procedure of the legislative craft system.

A new feature that has come to light, and that has not tended to cool the spirit of those who have been so ruthlessly "sweated" during the last few days, is that the grand jury is very apt to break into the proceedings. It is said that should Comerford be expelled from the legislature his course of action will be to go directly to Sangamon county grand jury and lay his information relative to the grand jury of Forty-third and Forty-fifth general assemblies before it.

SENSATION AT GETTYSBURG

An Outbreak of Sanitation in Gettysburg College Results in a Rapid Sanitation.

Gettysburg, Pa., Feb. 8.—The entire student body of Gettysburg college has been placed under quarantine because of the discovery of smallpox in the institution. Two freshmen, Roy W. Stambaugh, of Perry county, and Ralph Zimmerman, of Somerset, were stricken with the disease, and the board of health deputed a large force of men to guard the campus during their arrival, however, more than 100 students had fled from the college, many of them leaving the building by way of the rear windows, while others jumped from the windows. A few of the students left town immediately, but the greater number remained here, expecting to board later trains. They were all apprehended by the authorities and returned to the dormitories. Rights were quickly secured, while others boarded a train for Harrisburg, but upon their arrival at that city they were met by a squad of policemen, who placed them in the city hall. When the train reached here the students were in an ugly mood, and barricaded themselves in the car. The police and health authorities awaited patiently, and the students were finally forced, through hunger, to capitulate. The students of Somerset and schools have been closed.

ELDER KIMBALL DENIES He Quotes What He Did Say at the Cuckoo State Conference at Logan, Utah.

Salt Lake, Utah, Feb. 4.—J. G. Kimball, general secretary and father of the first convolt of 70 of the Mormon church, who was credited in a special dispatch from Logan to the Salt Lake Tribune, on Sunday last, with defending polygamy and declaring before the Utah State conference that congress would be unable to stop the practice, has issued a signed statement in which he declares that the report attributing to him any defense of the practice of polygamy is false. He asserts that he made no reference to the subject of polygamy, either openly or covertly, by inference or innuendo.

What he did say, he alleges, was to refer in the following language to resolutions recently adopted by a body of women in the east: "Women in the east want congress to stop this thing (bringing children into poor families). Congress will have quite a time in trying to prevent poor people having large numbers of children. These women want to put their practice down and legalize race mutilation." Continuing, Mr. Kimball says: "I then bore my testimony that Mormonism is true, that it had found its way into my bones and into my blood, and that I felt it in every fiber of my being, and that 'Mormonism cannot be destroyed, and the more they try to destroy it the more it will grow, believe in it and I will live in it.'"

The act fixes the penalty for violation at $1,000 fine for the first offense and $100 for each day after conviction that white and colored children shall be taught in the same school.

If Berea College is convicted the case will be carried to the Kentucky Court of Appeals, and if the lower court is then sustained an appeal will be taken to the United States Supreme Court.

DELAYED CLEARANCE SALE.

For several reasons we have been delayed in inaugurating our GREAT MID-WINTER CLEARANCE SALE. We have at last, however, gotten every thing in "ship shape" and are determined to make this "clearing up sale" the greatest success of our life. Beginning Wednesday, February 8th, we shall place before the bargain hunter more genuine bargains---bargains with more meat in them than he or she has ever had an opportunity to take advantage of.

We have just finished the closest inventory of a lifetime---have gone carefully through each and every department in our immense stock and "fixed" all odds and ends, and beside vast quantities of seasonable merchandise for getting a "quick move" on themselves. By "fixed" we mean we have placed a discount on these goods that can but result in the "cleaning up" of all articles thus marked during this great clearance sale beginning the 8th and extending through the remainder of the month.

While lack of time and scarcity of space forbid entering into minute detail, we do below enumerate in a general way some of the great sacrifices of this sale.

ALL OVERCOATS AT 25 PER CENT. DISCOUNT

THINK OF IT!
In the midst of winter.

CLOTHING.

Under this head we have arranged 100 Knee Pants Suits, sizes 3 to 8 years.
246 Knee Pants Suits, sizes 9 to 16 years.
199 Young Men's Suits, sizes 14 to 20 years, that have vests and long pants, upon which the following cut prices go.

$1.50	Suits cut to	$1.15
2.00	Suits cut to	1.50
2.50	Suits cut to	1.75
3.00	Suits cut to	2.25
3.50	Suits cut to	2.50
4.00	Suits cut to	3.00
5.00	Suits cut to	3.50
6.00	Suits cut to	4.50
7.50	Suits cut to	5.50
10.00	Suits cut to	7.50
12.50	Suits cut to	9.00

And a universal discount of 20 per cent. upon every Man's Suit in stock.

Think of it, a $10,000.00 Stock of Clothing going during the remainder of the month at about manufacturer's price.

Goods on the Balcony

NOW LISTEN!

	FIRST PRICE.	CUT PRICE.
37 off style tailor suits	$10.00 to 25.00	$1.50 to $6.00
14 off style tailor suits	10.00 to 20.00	1.50 to 4.00
8 Golf Capes.....	5.00 to 13.50	1.50 to 3.50
24 old cloth Capes....	50c to 1.50.	50c
11 off style Capes.....	1.50 to 5.00	75c to 1.50
6 short Coats.....	4.00 to 10.00	1.00 to 2.50
17 Oxford Raglans....	5.00	1.50
All NEW tailor made suits at exactly manufacturer's price.

FIRST FLOOR BARGAINS.

Here we cannot enter into particulars. In our immense SHOE stock we are showing numbers of Good Wearing shoes bearing the "clean up" mark which means they must move, and the lever used is a discount of 20 to 33 1/2 per cent. Most prominent on the Dry Goods side are one lot Damask Portieres at about one-half price, and a big lot each of Silk and Velvet Remnants that may run the ladies crazy when they get into them. These Silks and Velvets are wonderful bargains.

SHIRTS.

A Stiff Front Shirt, all should agree, is the only correct thing for winter wear.

For some "unreasonable reason" however they have been abandoned and in consequence, we include in this great Sacrificing Sale the following:

168 Stiff Front Fancy Shirts.
"Gold," "Silver" and "Monarch."
$1.50 grade cut to.....	30c
$1.00 grade cut to.....	30c
14 1/2 to 17 1/2
80 Stiff Front Fancy Shirts.
50c Grade cut to .....	25c
14 1/2 to 17 1/2
60 Good Work Shirts slightly soiled
50c grade cut to 35c, or 3 for $1.00
Winter Time---Winter Shirts.
Prices Cut Half in Two.

And in connection with this greatest of Clearance Sale, we have arranged to carry on a White Goods and Embroidery sale, which we think may prove the attractive feature of our February business.

For handling these we have placed a row of counters right down the center of our lower room, thus enabling quite a number of ladies to get a clean sweep at them at a time.

Standing room for you on both sides of the counters you see, and every thing being plainly marked there is no chance for friction

10 cents Upon one counter we are showing 4,469 yards of Embroidery at 10 cents
In this lot are both Jaconet and Swisses---Edges and Insertions.
Width of Edges from 2 1/2 to 10 inches.

5 Cents Upon an other counter are 2,103 yards of Embroidery at 5 Cents and about 150 yards at 12-1-2 cents a yard.

And throughout our White Goods, such as India Linens, Fancy White Goods, and our great stock of Table Linens we are making prices that guarantee a colossal business there in.

This is a "departure" for us and we earnestly ask each and every lady in Hopkins county to come and help us make it a great success. We certainly have done our part and the door is open to you.

In all candor we assure the trade. In this combined "Clearance, White Goods and Embroidery" sale we are offering the greatest values of our experience.

Come in, take your time and get your choice. Time from Feby. 8th to March 1st, 1905.

N. B.---We were about to omit two important facts. One is, we have quite a good assortment of Gum Boots on which we are making a discount of 20 per cent. and the other:

No goods are to be sold on credit during this sale.

THURSDAY, FEB. 9, 1905.

Mr. Roosevelt proved to be the most popular man in America at the polls last November, so far as the men of the country were concerned. And now he is becoming the pride of American women. The President recently recommended the whipping post for wife beaters, in his message to Congress and more lately sent a special message to that body recommending that provision be made for gathering statistics on marriage and divorce to the end that uniform divorce laws may be enacted.

The American eagle now flaps its wings over two new States, Oklahoma including Indian Territory, and New Mexico, which came in under the Joint Statehood bill in the United States Senate on Tuesday night. The bill is not a law yet but will be in due course. One amendment which will please all temperance advocates is the provision that the sale of intoxicating liquors is prohibited in the new State of Oklahoma for the period of twenty-one years. This provision was originated for the protection of the Indians.

The railroads have, during the present frigid spell of weather, been unable to move the heavy coal shipment from the mines with promptness until the last two or three days. Even yet the movement is not normal. The tonnage of general business has been great and the extra demands on the coal producers simply made prompt movement of trains in such frigid weather impossible. The addition of another set of train dispatchers to the Earlington office enabled the railroad officials to live up to the movements of trains at once. The freight traffic on the Henderson division of the Louisville & Nashville is constantly increasing and the division is now divided into three sections with three sets of dispatchers, and all is handled from the Earlington office. Some day not far distant this will be a double track division with equipment commensurate with its importance as one of the busiest divisions of a great railroad system.

One Year Ago.

THIS YEAR, one year ago, was a momentous week to many millions of people the world over. On February 6th, 1904, just one year ago Monday, Japan severed diplomatic relations with Russia and the Russian Minister to Japan was recalled. Just on year ago yesterday Vice-Admiral Togo with the main Japanese fleet engaged the Russian ships and batteries at Port Arthur.

On February 10th the czar proclaimed war with Japan. The other chief event of the week was the great Baltimore fire of February 2 and 3, which destroyed 70,000,000 of property, burning 140 houses and completely 75 city blocks with about 2,500 buildings.

Traveling Salesman Shot Accidentally.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 1.—G. H. Clark, a traveling salesman for the Green River Distilling company, of Owensboro, is lying at his home on Jefferson avenue, in this city, with a bullet wound in the head. Mr. Clark was on an Illinois Central train at Effield, Ill., on his way home, when a boy in a field at some distance from the railroad track fired a rifle. The bullet crashed through the window and struck Mr. Clark in the head. It was at first thought that the wound would prove fatal. It was temporarily dressed and Mr. Clark was brought home. The physicians probed for the ball and found it embedded in the bones of his nose. It was extracted, and it is now the opinion of the physicians that the wounded man will recover.

Lincoln a Friend of the South.

The following excellent article appears in the editorial columns of the Louisville Evening Post:

We are glad to see in the advertisements of a new book by the Rev. Dr. Dixon the catch line, "Lincoln the friend of the South."

It is true. It is not new. Yet it is well to repeat the statement from time to time in order to keep it fresh in the minds of all the people.

Lincoln was not the first, nor was he the last President, who was a friend of the South. He was a friend of the South, though his wisdom was as manifest as his friendship.

Grant was a friend of the South, though it took the South some time to find it out.

Haves was a friend of the South, and did more than Tilden could have done to restore the South to the Union.

Garfield was a friend of the South, and so was Arthur.

Cleveland was a friend of the South, and opened every door of preference to Southern men.

Harrison was a friend of the South and was welcomed wherever he went.

McKinley was a friend of the South and showed it especially in his army appointments.

Roosevelt is a friend of the South and shows it steadily by advancing the standard of Federal service in the South.

These statements are grouped in order to make plain that the day of the sectional President has passed; any man who becomes President must be a friend of the South, because the South is an integral portion of the American Union and a most important portion.

Let us keep that fact in mind, and get away from the position in which some partisan leaders have placed the South. Let us take it for granted that Congress, the President and the Supreme Court are all friends of the South, and make no further comment on the fact.

Then let the South, as a part of the nation, consider national questions from a national standpoint, looking to the future instead of to the past.

The South is no beggar for Princes' favor. It is misrepresented by many who speak in its behalf. It is not a child, and it has not any childish things. It asks no privileges or exceptions, but only fair play. We think of the South too much as a political entity; let us think of it as a portion of the Union, with diversified interests and with purposes requiring national approval and national support.

When our political leaders stop talking about Southern friendship, Southern politics, Southern policies, the nation will look to the South as to the West and East and North for guidance and for leaders and for Presidents. But as long as we ask each other if one President or another is a friend of the South, the conclusion is that the South is querulous of herself, uncertain of her position, uncertain of her future and not ready for national leadership.

I wish to state for the benefit of Evansville, Ind., that I believe that Dr. Foerg's Remedy saved my brother's life some two years ago. ## Coal Dust Explosions in Mines.

The losses of life and property from explosions in coal mines in the past have been enormous and appalling and much study and investigation has been done to find the causes with a view to prevent or minimize such accidents.

Firedamp, when mixed with air, was at first thought to be the sole source of danger, and, when firedamp is present no one will deny that this may be sufficient to produce most disastrous explosions when fired, but serious explosions have occurred in mines thought to be free from explosive gases.

It was only about a century ago that coal dust began to be recognized as a possible factor in colliery explosions. In 1844 Faraday and Lyell made a series of experiments at the Haswell Mine, in England, after a serious explosion had occurred, and they concluded that coal dust had played an important part in the explosion. Later in the century attention again became directed to the influence of coal dust in some of the disastrous colliery explosions that took place.

In England, France, and Germany elaborate investigations were instituted which added much to our knowledge of this subject. There is still some disagreement as to whether a mixture of coal dust and air alone is explosive, but it is generally conceded that when even a small percentage of firedamp is present the mixture becomes exceedingly dangerous.

The most important thing to be determined in an investigation of this subject is whether a mixture of firedamp or other explosive gases could, under any condition, be exploded. This fact once established, the possibility of such an explosion occurring in a non-gaseous mine must be recognized.

Experiments were made in Great Britain by Galloway, Hall, Lishman, and others in artificial galleries both on a small and on a large scale, in which shots from a cannon or pistol were fired in an atmosphere heavily charged with coal dust but free from explosive gases. In some cases an ignition or explosion took place and was propagated throughout the entire length of the galleries. In other cases there was simply an elongation of the flame from the shot without ignition. The certainty of an explosion was to depend on the fulfillment of a number of conditions, among which are, the fineness, the state of dryness and purity of the dust; the amount of dust in suspension; the kind and quality of the powder used to produce the initial explosion; the tamping used, etc. If any one of these and perhaps other conditions unfavorable no explosion was produced, but when every condition was favorable violent ignitions and explosions resulted.

W. H. Graves in February Mines and Minerals, Scranton, Pa.

Utilization of Waste Heat From Coke Ovens.

When it is considered that the yield of coke, even with the best adapted for its production, is by weight only 65 per cent of the original weight of the coal, and when, furthermore, it is considered that practically all the ash and incombustible portion, excepting moisture, remains in the coke, the fact is impressed on one's mind that in the coking process a great deal of the heating power of the coal is lost. Assuming that the heat value of a pound of coke is 13,000 British thermal units, then 6500 pound produced from 1 pound of coal would represent 8,450 British thermal units.

Comparing this with the original heat value of the coal, which would be about 13,500 British thermal units, the numerical value of the loss just mentioned is found to be 5,050 British units. This, if entirely utilized, would evaporate approximately 3 1/2 pounds of water. While actually such an evaporation per pound of coal coked is of course out of the realms of possibility, still if only a fraction of this amount could be obtained the results would well warrant a considerable investment.—From an article in February Mines and Minerals, Scranton, Pa.

Wm. Lynch, of Dawson Springs, has sold the old Clifton Coal Company mines and 1,000 acres of land around Manning to parties contemplating the re-opening and operation of mines there. The sum reported to have been received for the property is $35,000. One report says the sale was made to Baltimore parties, another that men of Nashville, Tenn., made the purchase. It has been quite a number of years since coal mining was discontinued at that point. The old Clifton Coal Company was involved in debt and litigation and much of the plant and machinery was allowed to stand there and go to ruin. The opening of a successful mining operation at Manning will revolutionize conditions in that vicinity.

Pittsburg coal in Louisville has advanced to $3.25 per ton retail on account of suspended navigation in the Ohio river. Kentucky coal has followed with a similar advance of 25 cents per ton. The demand for coal is excessive just now at all Kentucky mines and none can nearly furnish the supply asked.

NEWSY LETTER FROM OUR

Davis Well Correspondent.—Saw Mill Explodes and Engineer Killed.

A most shocking affair was the boiler explosion last Friday at Brook's saw mill on Pond river near Antioch, when Jim Hendrix, the engineer, was killed, having the top of his head blown off, scattering his brains, breaking both arms and both legs and mauling his body fearfully, blowing it through the shed roof, which was made of corrugated iron, and landing it some 30 feet away. There was but one other man present and strange to say he escaped uninjured, notwithstanding the fact that the entire shed was demolished. He was filling the saw and the frame that supports the top saw protected him. It happened at the noon hour while the other hands were out at their shanty for dinner or there would perhaps have been several more lives lost. The proprietor was in Evansville at the time it happened but was telephoned and returned home immediately. It is understood that he will repair the boiler and proceed with his work. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

Mrs. John Martin, of near Earls, Muhlenburg county, died last Friday of cancer of the breast. Her remains were buried Saturday at Antioch cemetery. She was a daughter of the late Equine Hendrix, formerly of Madisonville.

Mrs. Johnnie Robertson, who has been confined to her bed for some four weeks with a complication of diseases, has recovered sufficiently to be able to sit up a part of the time.

Poor bunny is having a hard time during the big snow. It is reported that a party with two guns killed fifty odd one day last week on Theron Slaton's farm and on the next day another party beat them by killing sixty on the same farm. This is about all the game the farmers can enjoy for the hunters from the towns generally manage to get the birds.

John Slaton and Lankford Todd have been wrestling for several days with a severe attack of grippe but are considerably improved.

Ben Barnett, of the Island, had the misfortune to lose a fish which was recently. He purchased her in Warren county and was to be through. She seemed to have a hard chill when he got home and was dead the next morning. He also lost two others about the same time of his own raising.

Itch—Ringworm.

E. T. Lucas, Wiggo, Ky., writes, April 26th, 1902: "For 10 to 12 years I have been afflicted with a malady known as the 'itch.' The itching most unbearable; I had tried for years to find relief, but failed. I remember I could hear of, besides a number of doctors, who claim to state that one single application of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me completely and permanently. Since then I have used the liniment on two separate occasions for ring worm and it cured completely. 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottle.

BIG SUN SPOT

All the Local Sightseers Punish Their Eyes to Witness Phenomenon.

Have you seen the spot on the Sun?

This was the familiar salutation on Earlington streets Monday and the way folks, even the school children, talked about Old Sol that day left his character anything but spotless. Never more can it be said of the light of "Thou art all fair." With a black blemish 30,000 miles in diameter plastered on his blazing front like a beauty spot on the countenance of a powdered maiden, people must be expected to talk. Next thing somebody will call the old fellow a burning disgrace, a white spot, a white spot.

It is easy enough to see the black spot, triangular in shape, which astronomers say is one of the largest spots ever observed. A smoked glass or a not too heavy cloud serves as a screen to the eye and makes the spot easily discernable.

One-third of the land service of the globe is covered in trees.

A man should weigh twenty-six pounds for every foot of his height.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

Idron Brown, who was transferred to the Bridge Department last May on account of slack business on the road, has been returned to the mechanical department to resume his vocation as fireman.

Andrew Clark, for some time a car inspector at E. St. Louis, has resigned, giving as his reason that he has made a fortune dealing in railroad stock.

From the humble clerkship to the presidency of the Long Island Railroad is the record of William F. Potter.

Fireman J. W. Hestand of the St. Louis Division has resigned. He is of the opinion that he is not cut out for a fireman.

The lagrippe seems to have gotten its grip on several well known railroad men in this section.

Just after train 52 had passed through Enfield, Ill., on the first a boy shot into the coaches. The bullet entered the cheek of G. H. Clark, who was a passenger. The train was making about fifty miles an hour when the shot was fired.

F. O. Walsh, of Montgomery, Ala., was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walsh, of Howell, Sunday and Monday.

Engineer Charles Sura spent a few days at Belleville, Ill., the first of the week attending court.

Several new passenger engines have been sent to this division in place of others which have been sent south.

We are pleased to add to our already long list of subscribers William M. Cooper, the new night foreman of the Howell road house.

T. L. Hestand, fireman, has been confined to his room for the past week with the grip.

Switchman John Bitts had his right hand mashed last Saturday at Evansville between two couplers.

Ed. Kookendoffer, yard fireman, slipped off the tank of engine 438 Sunday injuring himself slightly.

Fireman Morris Gee had the misfortune to have his ears frost bitten so badly that he was obliged to lose several trips.

Abraham Solomon, who was struck at the Ingie mine not long since having to be taken to hospital, has fully recovered from his injuries.

Letters of an Engineer to His Master Mechanic, No. 14.

Dear Sir:

Going around Ram's Horn Curve today we encountered a hand car. The section men had not heard us, and did not have time to get the car off the track. Fireman Skupeshoval got so frightened that he jumped out of the cab window head first, almost killing himself. No one else injured. The hand car was smashed to pieces. The man who has been watching my engine at the other end of the line writes me the following letter today. I give it verbatim: "I have been going to work any longer for you or any other Railroad Road Company. Get my time check some as possible. I have made a fortune A Gambles on Rail Road Stocks in the Past 10 days is the Reasoning I am quitting you. I am not able to work and attend to my Stock Exchange Business any longer. I will Haft to quit your road. I don't Haft to work for a Small Salary any longer." Please send him a check for his time. I have an idea he will buy the road. I need another man now and wish in selecting him you would ask him particularly in regard to gambling, as I don't want a man who will work a week or so, and then get rich gambling on rail road stock and leave. I don't know what stock he dabbled with, but I am sure it wasn't this road's stock. Conductor Punchedum was around the engine again today. He looked at the steam gauge, set his watch by it, and went back where he belonged. He ought to be promoted some day.

Yours truly,
S. ANDY KOWETCHER,
Engineer.

Mrs. Will Cozart and two babies, who have been visiting friends and relatives in Hopkins county for several days, returned to Elktion Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Cozart have moved into their new home on Clarks-ville street.

Give Your Stomach a Rest.

Your food must be properly digested and assimilated to be of any value to you. If your stomach is weak or diseased take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and gives the stomach a rest, enabling it to recuperate, take on new life and grow strong again. Kodol cures sour stomach, gas, bloating, heart palpitation and all digestive disorders. L. A. S. Baker, of Little Rock, Ky., writes us: "We feel that Kodol Dyspepsia Cure deserves all the commendation that can be given to it as it saved the life of our little girl when she was three years old. She is now six and we have kept it by her constantly, but of course she only takes it now when anything disagrees with her."

NEBO NOTES.

Nebo has froze and all the news froze too, consequently you cannot expect much from this place this week.

Owing to the cold weather very little has been done in the tobacco factories.

Some of the young ladies met last week and organized a Culture Club for self-improvement. They elected Miss Cattie Morrow, Pres.; Miss Alice Campbell, Sec.; Miss Lillian Graham, V. Pres.; Miss Lillian Roberts, Miss Maya Eudaley, Erma Hill and Mabel Graham, editors, to prepare and edit a paper each week. We think the enterprise a good one and would suggest a similar enterprise on the part of the young men and think that right time would be much better employed.

Ed. Hoffman has accepted a position with H. R. Cox. We can say for Ed. that he is one of our very best young men and predict that he will prove a great success.

Aaron Nighs has been on the sick list, but is recovering.

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St.,
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 2, 1902.
I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe dragging pains through the groin. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Mrs. Bush

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.
